The National Board of Steam Navigation will hold its tenth annual meeting at the Ebbitt House on Wednesday next at ten a m. The board represents over $600,000,000 and over four thousand steamboats. The big rifle match between the militia organizations of the District at Murshall Hall next Tuesday promises to be an interesting affair. The prize silver bowl will be on exhibition at Galt's and the badges at Semken's. Senator Johnston received yesterday a letter from General Hancock, stating that he had nearly completed the programme for the disposi-tion of the United States troops at Yorktown, and would forward it next week. A colored man named William Brown vas justly set down upon by Judge Snell yesterday for boisterous conduct in advising against an ar-rest because the officer had no warrant. The Judge fined him $10 or thirty days. A man named Littrell, while engaged in repairing a well on Mr. Miller's farm, near Mount Olivet Cometery, yesterday morning, was overcome by the foul air, and before he could be drawn out of the hole life was extinct.

Anthony Grammer, whose amtics with revolver at the corner of Ninth and F streets were mentioned in yesterday's REPUBLICAN, was before the Police Court yesterday, and got off with eleven months and twenty-nine days in jall. The liquor license committee have approved the application of John Denekas, No. 627 H street northeast, and disapproved those of Miss A. Bohman, 1000 Four-and-half street southwest, and J. S. Belt, 227 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

It seems that there is perfect harmony on the part of the plumbers of the District in the matter of assisting the Inspector of Plumbing in the enforcement of the new regulations adopted by the Commissioners through the recommenda-tion of the Health Officer. John Wesley was up before the Police Court yesterday on the charge of cruelly treating and working a horse unfit for labor. The testi-mony fully sustained the charge, and, though he pleaded ignorance of the law, he was fined $25 or sixty days in the work-house. The journeymen tailors have appointed a committee to wait upon one of the largest firms and endeavor to bring them to agree to pay the bill of prices adopted in 1877. Several other firms have agreed to pay the bill, and it is thought that next week all shops will adopt it. Mr. Frank S. Fowler, of London, Eng., was married to Miss Ida V. Prosise, of Washington, by Rev. Dr. Elliott, of the Ascension Church, Wednesday evening, September 28. Mr. Fowler will be renembered as the jeonifermanly clerk and mail agent on the steamer Corcoran. The Palais Royal now occupies the corer store of the Pension Office building, in addition to its former store, and presents the finest establishment for ladles wear of every description south of New York. The stalls in the new northern market, corner of Seventh and O streets, have been sold at prices ranging from $100 to $525 premium for each stall. There are ninety-six stalls or stands in the main building, eighty-four of which were sold for ten years. The market will be opened this

A volume of smoke issuing from the wheelwright establishment of Mr. Walters, corner of Fourteenth and C streets northwest, caused an alarm of fire yesterday morning, but inquiry showed that the smoke was caused by some of the workmen fitting heated tires to wheels.

The ex-officers and soldiers who formed the guard of honor to the remains of President Garfield while laying in state in the rotunda are requested to meet on Saturday evening at half-past seven o'clock in the Criminal Court room of the City Hall. The executive committee desire a fall attendance.

The courts will probably have to decide whether the ruling of the Commissioners that lumber arriving at Georgetown must be inspected and measured by Mr. Thomas, the official inspector for that port, or not, as two cases have recently arisen where the parties owning the lumber have refused to allow Mr. Thomas to inspect it.

Cards are out for a soirce dansante to be given by the Washington Light Guard at their armory, No. 106 A street southeast. This corps numbers among its members some of the most graceful racqueiters and longest-winded waltzers on Capitol Hill. The ladies await the evening of October 5 with steadily increasing interest. A very pleasant affair took place in the b-room of the Government Printing Office at the close of business yesterday afternoon. Mr. Will. C. Dewar closed his appronticeship of four years and was presented with a handsome testi-monial in the shape of a gold-headed caue. Mr. Charley O'Nelli made the presentation, to which Mr. Dewar happily responded.

A suit for divorce was begun yesterday by Ann Virginia Marcy against John T. Marcy, on by an virginia sarry, and the ground of habitual drunkenness and non-support. The parties were married September 20, 1856, but the plaintiff alleges that foother past seven years her husband has not only falled to provide for her, but has become a burden upon his friends by reason of his dissipated habits.

The announcement that Major H. D. forton had been elected captain of the Washington Light Guard is just a little "previous." As soon as Captain McCathran's resignation is accepted by the proper authorities an election will be held, and there is no doubt of Major Norton being selected by the company as its commander. The Major is an old soldier and full of energy, and under his direction the Light Guard will soon take its proper place among the erack organiza-tions of the District.

COUP'S BIG SHOW, Some Idea of its Extent-The Principal

The attractiveness of a circus is perenial. It don't make any difference how old a man is, his fondness for the circus does not diminish.

The parade of Coup's great show yesterday drew to the curbatones a large crowd in every street through which the procession passed, and many and warm were the encomiums passed upon the immensity and variety of the attractions displayed. The street parade however is only for a parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only for a contraction of the street parade however is only to the street pa immensity and variety of the attractions dis-played. The street parade, however, is only to ex-cite the anticipation of the regular exhibition. The small boy sees the closed cages as they pass and immediately skimishes in every known direction for the necessary quarter with which to investigate the interior of those cages and to see the elephants, the monkeys, the ponies, and the clown. The performance yesterday after-moon was as varied and enjoyable as has been witnessed. With the grand entere there appeared THE CELEBRATED IULUS, who also performed the first regular set, giving an

who also performed the first regular act, giving an exhibition of their war-dances, throwing the as-egal, &c. The men are finely formed, and indicate the possession of great strength and activity. The woman is comely, and there is a diminutive Zulu that attracted considerable attention. The riding and tumbling was be same as is seen in most circases, but the poules in their different acts clicited the most emphatic admiration. These ponies display almost human intelligence, responding to the commands of their trainer with an obedience that night be emulated by many diminutive tumman. Then there are the trained dogs, who are equally as remarkable as the ponies, and when they leaped over five horses the applause was tremendous. The wonderful act of

Was a revelation in circus attractions. The catapult from which this man is projected into space is a singular piece of mechanical construction. When the lever was pulled and Luiu was thrown toto the air the audience held their breath, and when he fell into the net and regained his feet there was a big feeling of relief. The races, with which the performance concluded, were decided novelties, and were witnessed with interest. The hurdle race was brought to an untimely conclusion by an accident to Miss Yates, who was thrown from from her horse, but was, fortunately, not much injured. The jockey race was quite exciting as were the Roman two-horse race and the chariot race. The Indian act, where the simulated sons of the forest chase a fair squaw and finally capture her, was a decidedly exciting race. There will be but two more performances and those should both be crowded. The grounds on the corner of Ninth and S streets look as if an army was encamped there, so great is the number of tents and so many are the people attached thereto. The most perfect order prevails, and the men live there at home. THE CLOUD-PLYER LULU

ARCHITECT CLARK'S REPORT. Improvements in and Around the Capitol

Architect Clark, of the Capitol, has sub mitted his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior. The report includes the Capitol grounds, the District court-house, the Government Printing Office, and plans for the school-house of the Dis trict for the year ending June 30, 1881. The report states that the new elevator in the south end of the House side is nearly completed. It suggests that the bath-rooms be removed from their pres-cut location, which is dark and gloomy, to the foot of the elevator. By making this change the estaurant can be extended so as to give a private restaurant can be extended so as to give a private room for members, as is done in the Senate wing. The gallery of the old Hall of Representatives has been made fire-proof. The Senate Chamber has been painted and regided, the corridors and many rooms repainted also. The Iron panels have been taken from the ceiling of the Senate and giass substituted. By the addition of skylights the north gallery of the Senate is now as light as the south. Mr. Costaginni has painted in freeco on the belt of the rotunda "The Settlement of New England," "Oglethorpe and the Indians," and "Lexington." He has also completed "Penn and the Indians," ieft unfinished by the late Mr. Brumidi, and he is now engaged on the 'Reading of the Declaration of Independence." "It is proper to say," says Architect Clark, "that Mr. Brumidi made the designs for these sections only in small stee, and Mr.

of Independence." "It is proper to say," says Architect Clark, "that Mr. Brumildi made the designs for these sections only in small size, and Mr. Costaginnt has had to make the full-sized cartons." It is decided to overcome about fifty feet of elevation to the Capitol building along its grounds and a change in the terrace. During the past year $24,570.81 has been expended for labor of men. In this is included $1,245.50 for horses and carts. The extension of the Public Printing Office is now ready for roofing, and it will be completed by the time of the uext regular session of Compress. The following amounts have been expended during the year: For the Capitol extension, from June 30, 1880, to June 30, 1881, $50,000 was expended. The amount was returned to the Treasury, being unavailable for the elevator. For the healing apparatus of the Senate, $16,000; for that of the House, $10,000; for lighting the Capitol and grounds, $31,742.07. The appropriation was $12,000. The balance has been returned to the Treasury. For the Capitol grounds, $60,000, minus $218.00 cash on hand) was expended; $0,500, but $228.00 was expended; the second of the Government Printing Office, $52,604.82 has been expended; $10,800. For the extension of the Government Printing Office, $52,604.82 has been expended; amount appropriated, $40,800.

Tub Race of the Columbias. The members of the Columbia Boat Club gave an interesting entertainment to their friends last evening, which was greatly enjoyed by the hundred or more ladies and gentlemen who by the hundred or more ladies and gentlemen who visited their cosy boat-house. A tub race and a single-scull shell race constituted the aquatic portion of the programme. The former had eight entries, and was won by Mr. Ed Olds, who managed his shell (tub) with great skill, and, avoiding the mishaps which befell several of his competitors, who litustrated, by prematurely cap-tiding, the force of the saying.

betel several of his competitors, who littariated, by prematurely capizing, the force of the saying, "More haste less speed," successfully maintained his equilibrum, and crossed the line ahead. Those who participated, besides Mr. Olds, were Messrs, L. C. Moore, B. T. Snyder, J. S. Zlegler, C. W. Henderson, W. E. Williams, B. Stinemetz, and A. May. The lucky winner was presented, amidst the congratulations of of admiring friends, with a handsome tin-cup, elaborately engraved, the prize being accompanied by remarks befitting the occasion by Mr. J. H. Gordon.

The single-soill race was a straight-away from the Aqueduct Bridge to the boat-house. The entries were Messrs, Moore, Lake, Smith, and De Roncary, and the race was won eleverly by Moore, with Lake second. Smith and De Roncary fouled when near the finish and were not placed. The mishap, however, did rot affect the leaders. At the conclusion of the races the Columbias entertained their friends with musle and dancing.

A Garffeld Memorial Hospital Proposed. Among the callers at the District buildings yesterday was Dr. F. A. Ashford, who pre-sented a petition, signed by a number of the lead-ing citizens of the District, which stated that for ing citizens of the District, which stated that for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of the late President Garfield in an appropriate manner, it had been suggested that a national Garfield memorial hospital be established in the city of Washington, where he was so ruthlessly stricken down in the discharge of his public duties. It is requested that the Commissioners will promptly call a meeting of the residents of the District and citzens generally to take such action as will insure the accomplishment of the object upon the broadest basis of a common humanity. The signers of the petition are as follows: Measars. M. D. Helm, C. E. Hagner, W. S. Thompson, W. Sickney, I. N. Burritt, F. A. Ashford, C. M. Matthews, H. C. Stewart, C. S. Noyes, B. L. Berret, Riggs & Co., Edward Abner, and W. W. Corcoran.

The hearing of the Christiancy case was resumed before Examiner Loveloy yesterday, Mr. Lugenbeel being recalled for cross-examination Lugenbeel being recalled for cross-examination regarding a certain letter said to have been written him'by the plaintiff. The wifness, however, was unable to recollect anything about the contents, and was allowed in withdraw. The defense then called Mr. Charles Eicholiz, but the prosecution objected to his testimony being given until they had an opportunity to cross-examine Miss Meloy in relation to the alibi set up by Mrs. Christiancy's counsel. The objection was certified to the Equity Court for section, and the hearing adjourned till to-day.

Professor Job G. McVeigh, formerly of his city, but now of Hannibal, Mo., has been appointed by the Governor of Missouri to the office of commissioner of public schools of that State. The county court, the September term

Dr. D. M. French, a highly-esteemed trizen, and a prominent member of the medical refession, died suddenly from paralysis, at his esidence, on Washington street, about half-past ne o'clock yesterday afternoon. ne o'clock yestermy anternoon.

James Clevenger, who was committed o lail a few days ago in default of a bond to keep he peace, attempted to commit suicide by cutting is throat, yesterday. He secured an old razor omewhere and scratched his streat a little and hen changed his mind and threw the razor away.

The jury in the case of J. H. D. Smoot and others, sureties of E. H. Deleiasy, the builder of the market-house, against the city council, in the circuit court yesterday, after being out one day, rendered a verdict against the city and for the plaintiffs, allowing them 50,370, with interest from this date. The sult was for $5,800.

STUPID PROCEEDINGS. How the Commissioners Acted in a Road

To the Editor of THE REPUBLICANT The award of $500 to Mrs. Victoria A. The award of $500 to Mrs. Victoria A. Burr, September 27, for cutting a road through her farm was by a second jury upon an appeal by the Commissioners from a like award of a jury, March 17. The laying out of the roal was strenuously resisted by Mrs. B. on the ground that it was not a needed public improvement and would be a very expensive work, while the present highway past the farm needed much to be improved. But when resistance seemed vain she offered to withdraw opposition on payment of $2.50 damages. No notice was taken of the offer, and a jury being summoned. was taken of the offer, and a jury being summoned gave her $000. Then the Commissioners threat-ened an appeal unless she was willing to settle on enied an appeal unless she was willing to settle on the basis of her former proposition for $250. This she of course retuned. But when a new jury was about to be summoned she offered to abute $250 from the judgment, provided that amount should be spent in needed inprovements of the public road leading to her farm. No notice was taken of this offer, but a new-jury was rommoned, who gave the same award as the former jury. The District is now compelled, in consequence of these willful blunders of its Commissioners, not only to pay $250 more than the owner of the farm offered to accept, but other incidental expenses, including the cost of two juries, amounting probably to about $250. And ait for what? To make a short road on the verge of the District, which can never be a thoroughfare, at an estimated cost of from $1,500 to $2,500, exclusive of costs already incurred—for it is one of the nuclest pieces of grading conceivable. How much better to make and keep in repair roads leading out of the city like spokes of a wheel than to cut cross-roads near the verge of the District for the assummodation of nobody but a few Maryland farmers!

The Northern Market. tion of the city have displayed great energy and taste in the erection of the new market-house on the corner of Seventh and O streets. Every one who has ever visited that section of the city remembers the old, dilapidated sheds that stood on O street and were used as a market. The new market-house was commenced last June and completed yester-day. It is a model of beauty, fronting on both streets, It has ninety-six stalls, with broad asless running through the leugth and breadth of the running through the length and breadth of the building. The citizens of that yielnity teel much pleased with the splendid accommodations now offered them in the way of a market. Where the new market now stands is the spot where John's restaurant stood. He sold the lease to the Market Company and lensed a house on O street and turned it into a first-class restaurant. On the lot where stood the old market now stands the Henry School building, one of the finest and best public schools in the city. The other portion of the lot is to be used for a figh-school building, the foundation of which is now being dug.

Activity on the River Front. have been reported by Harbor Master Sutton: Pungy Mary Francis, Captain Watkins, oysters for market; also pungies W. E. Ward, Cedar Deck, and James Wagner, and schooners J. C. Van Name, J W. Gillet, Jack Sheppard, Wave, Five Brothers Shining Light, Maggy, Mary, Nelly, and longboa Snining Light, Maggy, Mary, Nelly, and longboat E., all with oysters for market; schooner B. H. Mitchell, Mitchell, 285 tons coal for Johnson Bros; longboat Peri, wood for same; schooner George and Martha, Bland, wood for same; also longboat Ada Lee, Weston; longboat Rising Sun, Dunnington; schooner Howard Ogden, Besana, all with wood for dealers; schooner Virginia, Davis; longboat R. T. Bratton, Smith; schooner William Totten, Adams; schooner Martha Travers, Eckardt; schooner Sarah Jane, Beach, and schooner John T. Miles, Buchanan, all with oysters for market. Election of Officers, Equal Division No. 3, Sons of Temperance elected the following officers at its meeting last riight: J. H. Jecko, W. P.; Jam es Hodge, W. A.; Henry Noyes, R. S.; Simon Josephs, A. R. S.; J. R. The quarterly debt statement of the funded indebtedness of the District of Columbia and late corporation of Washington, issued to-day and late corporation of washington, issued to day by Treasurer Gilfillan, shows that the total out-standing indebtedness is $21,895,550. Of this amount $10,013,000 is registered, and $11,883,450 coupon stocks and bonds. The estimates of expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, amount to $3,465,000. The estimates for the current fiscal year were $3,425,257.33.

Assistant Secretary Upton, of the Treasury Department, has again been visited by burglars, but this time they only took about $10 worth of valuables. The house pext to his, No. 1821 street, was also robbed of a quantity of clothing and other articles.

Nothing tries the patience of a man more than to listen to a hacking cough, which he knows could be easily cured by investing twenty-five cents in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.
